Dear Sir,

The Summer Defence Conference, held each year since 2003 at the beginning of September, is now firmly established as an essential event in the European Defence calendar. On this occasion, twenty-odd Committee Chairmen from Parliaments in Europe will share their points of view concerning current and future issues, taking time out to think and analyse matters, exchanging ideas in a friendly and relaxed environment.

On the occasion of this 5th Summer Conference, which will take place in Toulouse on Monday 10 and Tuesday 11 September 2007, I am pleased to personally invite you to take part in our work during the two-day event.

This new session, with the Military Planning Law as its main theme, will also highlight space-related matters, in particular European space cooperation.

In order to provide you with a more comprehensive overview of the various highlights of this 5th Conference, I will be sending you the program very shortly once it has been finalised.

Until then, I suggest you note down the dates in your diary and I look forward to seeing you in Toulouse.

Toulouse

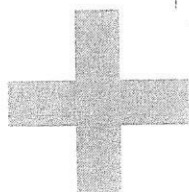

10|11 September
2007

Organized by
The National Defence and Armed Forces Committee of the French National Assembly

and
The Foreign Affairs, Defence and Armed Forces
Committee of the French Senate

The annual Defence event.

For the first time, The French National Assembly and the Senate, through their respective Defence Committees, have decided to jointly organise the Summer Defence Conference. This Conference has become THE essential meeting point for 250 French and European decision-makers and brings together the major political, industrial and military stakeholders for two days of visits and workshops.

2007, a watershed year.

For the first time since the elections, the new presidents, ministers and parliamentary members will have the opportunity to meet up for upstream discussions, with regard to projects concerning the new French White Papers and the new French Military Planning Law.

Emphasis on space.

For the first time, space, and more precisely European space cooperation, will be the subject of special attention in the debates.

Political highlight.

Invited by the Chairmen of the French National Assembly and Senate Committees, and in the presence of fifteen of their European counterparts, the Minister of Defence traditionally takes part in the workshops before bringing down the curtain on the Conference by giving a much-awaited speech. The Conference is also a platform for exchanges and preparatory work for the Parliamentary year that begins in October.

A meeting place.

The exchanges and informal contacts between the participants from politics, industry and the press help forge the very spirit of the Conference. These encounters have enabled the Conference to become a fabulous networking platform enabling participants to create or underpin strategic links that are essential for the future of the European Defence sector.
